The Morris County Chamber of Commerce has approved Porzio Principal Deirdre Wheatley-Liss to its 2021 Board of Directors as Vice Chair. Deirdre has served on the Board of Directors since 2013, and has been an active volunteer leader to the Morris County Chamber of Commerce as former Chair of the Morris Members Counsel, and advisor to the Women in Business Committee.

As a member of Porzio's Wealth Preservation Group, Deirdre counsels closely held companies and their owners on business and tax issues, as well as helping individuals and families plan for their future.

Along with Deirdre, fellow Porzio Principal John Patrick Oroho has been a key contributor of the Chamber since 2015, formerly serving as a member of the Morris County Economic Development Corporation. Today, John continues his service as a member of the Morris Business Cabinet, helping Chamber members with senior leadership positions collaborate and build relationships with their peers. John also leads the Chamber's annual Life Sciences Forum.
