Round Table: Environment Law

April 29, 2013

By Lisa M. Bromberg

We have spoken to some key figures from around the globe to dissect the issues which surround environment law such as recent regulatory changes and litigation risk. We also discuss the best strategy going forward for reducing emissions and attempt to predict what eco-friendly products could potentially dominate 2013 while also trying to foresee possible, future key trends.