Porzio Employment Law Monthly

Porzio's 2021 Year in Review contains ongoing coverage of COVID-19 vaccination and testing mandates, as well as an extensive compilation of articles on discrimination, employee benefits, independent contractors, reductions in force, and the impact of cannabis in the workforce. We recommend employers follow us at @PorzioLaw for the latest changes and review their policies and practices to ensure compliance with all federal, state, and local laws. If you have any questions or if we can otherwise help in any way, please feel free to reach out to a member of the Employment Law Team.
