MORRISTOWN, N.J. – Porzio, Bromberg & Newman is pleased to announce the expansion of its Environmental and Land Use practices with the arrival of principal David J. Singer and associate Lisa M. Leili. Known for their environmental transaction, land use, commercial real estate, and general civil litigation work, Singer and Leili's wealth of experience will further enhance Porzio's existing environmental and real estate capabilities.

Porzio's Managing Principal, Vito A. Gagliardi, Jr. said, "David and Lisa's environmental and land use focused background, in-depth industry knowledge, and regional perspective will be invaluable to our clients and colleagues. We are delighted that they have joined Porzio and have chosen to grow their practice here."

"Porzio's reputation and valuable industry connections stem back to its inception. I am excited to work with such a significant and sophisticated group led by co-chairs Thomas Spiesman and Lisa Bromberg," said Singer.

Having spent most of his life in New Jersey, Singer graduated from Rutgers University - Cook College in 2001 with a B.S. in Environmental Policy, Institutions and Behavior. He later received his J.D. from Vermont Law School in 2004.

Leili has experience in a wide range of areas including personal and corporate matters, personal injury, medical malpractice insurance, products and premises liability, land use, and trusts and estates. She graduated from Rutgers University with a B.S. in Administration of Justice in 1999, and earned her J.D. from Rutgers University School of Law in 2003.
