Porzio, Bromberg & Newman, P.C. is pleased to announce the opening of its newest office in Clinton, New Jersey, on April 1, 2025. This expansion represents Porzio's commitment to providing tailored legal services to better serve all of our clients and residents of Hunterdon County, particularly in the areas of estate planning, estate administration, and Elder Law including long term care and asset protection.

Located at 14 Moebus Place, this office will serve as a convenient and welcoming space for clients seeking guidance and solutions on wills, trusts and estates, and long term care to secure their future and that of their loved ones.

“We are excited to establish a presence in Hunterdon County,” said Vito A. Gagliardi, Jr., Managing Principal of Porzio. “This expansion underscores our firm's dedication to meeting the needs of families and individuals where they live and work. Hunterdon County is home to a vibrant and close-knit community, and we are honored to support its residents with critical estate planning services to help preserve their legacies and provide peace of mind. This move also marks an exciting chapter for Porzio as we grow to serve more communities across New Jersey.”

Ryann Siclari, Principal, will oversee the Clinton office, working closely with Daniel Makoski, Counsel, both of whom are members of the firm's Wealth Preservation Group. Together, Ms. Siclari and Mr. Makoski will focus on expanding Porzio's full range of services in the region, ensuring comprehensive support for clients, and clients with business interests in the area.

Porzio looks forward to becoming an integral part of the Hunterdon County community and invites residents to visit the new office for assistance with their estate planning, estate administration, and long term care needs.
