By: Rebecca Forrestal, Charles Stoia

Porzio, Bromberg & Newman, P.C. is proud to announce that Rebecca Wall Forrestal has joined the firm's Litigation Practice Group as Counsel. Forrestal brings a wealth of experience representing clients in complex disputes across federal and state courts, particularly in highly regulated industries.

Forrestal's practice focuses on products liability, class actions, civil antitrust, commercial contract disputes, and False Claims Act qui tam suits. She has significant industry knowledge in the pharmaceuticals, agrichemicals, aerospace, and technology sectors, and is known for delivering strategic, business-aligned litigation counsel in fast-moving regulatory environments.

"We're excited to welcome Rebecca to the team," said Charles Stoia, Co-Chair of the Litigation Practice Group. "Her ability to navigate complex litigation while understanding the regulatory and operational challenges our clients face makes her a tremendous asset to the firm and our clients."

Forrestal also has extensive experience managing government investigations and advising on compliance with key statutes such as the Anti-Kickback Statute and the Bank Secrecy Act. Her time as in-house counsel for a leading biotechnology company informs her pragmatic, solution-oriented approach to litigation and compliance challenges.

"I'm excited to join Porzio's talented litigation team," said Forrestal. "The firm's deep commitment to client service and its collaborative, multidisciplinary approach make it a great fit for my practice."

Forrestal's addition reflects Porzio's continued investment in top-tier litigation talent to meet the evolving needs of clients in complex, regulated sectors.
