Vito A. Gagliardi, Jr. on the "Ins and Outs" of School Send-Receive Relationships

August 22, 2015

Recent discussions offer evidence that the Mountainside High School may be exploring other high schools to send its students to instead of Governor Livingston in the Berkeley Heights district. However, such a move is not one that can be implemented easily.

Porzio principal Vito A. Gagliardi explains a send-receive relationship termination: “The law says that you cannot end a send-receive relationship without filing a contested case before the state commissioner of education, in which you prove that there would be no substantial negative educational, racial or financial impact on any of the communities involved... Whoever wants to end the relationship must file the lawsuit.”
