Porzio Named Top "Notable Smaller Firm" in Life Sciences Law Firm Index

January 18, 2016

Porzio, Bromberg & Newman P.C. is honored to be recognized as the top "Notable Smaller Firm" in the inaugural edition of the Life Sciences Law Firm Index, created by Lake Whillans and Breaking Media.

In the Index, it is noted that "Porzio's diverse life sciences practice demonstrates that sophisticated transactional, regulatory and compliance services throughout a company life cycle are not exclusive to the legal industry's Goliaths."

The Index was created to identify the most active and relevant law firms for life science companies. Data was collected regarding firms' corporate, intellectual property and regulatory practice areas, in addition to their work with life science startup companies.

Lake Whillans is a litigation finance and distressed venture capital firm based in in New York City; Breaking Media is the publisher of MedCity News and Above the Law.

To read the full Life Sciences Law Firm Index results, please click here.

