Aggregate Spend Goes Global: John P. Oroho Interviewed by MedCity News

March 30, 2016

By: John Oroho

Porzio principal and Porzio Life Sciences Executive Vice President and Chief Strategy Officer John P. Oroho was interviewed by Jon Shazar for the MedCity News article, "Aggregate Spend Goes Global."

In light of the expanding global transparency trend, Mr. Oroho expresses the growing need for transparency consulting and reporting services, and discusses the keys to an effective global compliance program and the importance of an HCP-interaction risk management system.

Porzio was recently named the "notable small law firm" in the inaugural Life Science Law Firm Index, created by Breaking Media (publisher of MedCity News) and Lake Whillans, a distressed venture capital and litigation finance firm. The Index was created to identify the most active and relevant law firms for life science companies. Data was collected regarding firms' corporate, intellectual property and regulatory practice areas, in addition to their work with life science startup companies.
