

BREAST CANCER RESEARCH, EDUCATION AND AWARENESS EVENT

The Tikkun Olam Committee of the Jewish Bar Association of New Jersey, together with Hackensack Meridian Health, are hosting a community health education and awareness event focused on breast and other types of cancers. The program will include an interactive evening of mingling, networking and creativity as well as a featured presentation by a genetic expert with timely information about health issues of particular importance to our community.

Date: Tuesday, October 28, 2025

Time: 5:00–7:00 PM

Location: Anshe Emeth Memorial Temple
222 Livingston Ave, New Brunswick, NJ

Cost: $36 per person

(Sponsorship Opportunities Available)

This event will include:

- A keynote address by Dr. Elias Obeid, MD, MPH - Director of the Hennessy Institute for Cancer Prevention and Applied Molecular Medicine at Hackensack Meridian Health.
- Health Education stations on breast and other cancer risks - including a focus on elevated risks in certain communities such as BRCA gene, as well as screenings for diabetes, cholesterol and colon cancer awareness
- Paint and Sip painting station - a guided art creation program
- Kosher Food & Beverages

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

Sponsorship Opportunities

Please consider becoming a Supporter ($500), Advocate ($1,800), Champion ($3,600) or Visionary ($5,000) Sponsor of the JBAR NJ and Hackensack Meridian Health Foundation's evening for advancement of cancer research, education, screening and community support.

CLICK HERE TO BECOME A SPONSOR

Proceeds from this event will be used to support cancer research, awareness and community-based cancer screening conducted by the Hackensack Meridian Center for Discovery and Innovation (CDI) and the JTCC Community Outreach and Engagement Program to address cancer disparities.

For more information, please contact Robert Schechter, Co-Chair of the JBAR NJ Tikkun Olam Committee (RMSchechter@pbnlaw.com) or Sara Simon, Member of the JBAR NJ Tikkun Olam Committee (SRSimon@pbnlaw.com).